The Perryfield Post

Dear Parents/Carers

It has been another great week at Perryfields Infants. The whole school has been buzzing since the whole school trip to Layer Marney Towers. The work that they have produced this week has been outstanding, especially the writing. From the children in the Early Years Foundation Stage to the Year 2 children have been showing their teachers and friends excellent writing stamina and spelling.

Of course, these sorts of trips wouldn't be possible without parent contributions and parent helpers. I would like to thank all of the parent helpers who kindly volunteered their time to support the children on the trip. The feedback I have had so far has been fantastic and I know the staff and helpers also enjoyed the day.
