The Perryfield Post

It was another busy week at school. It is this time of year that I'm reminded that we are now half way through the academic year. I am hoping that you all found the parents evenings informative and useful.

School Council News

Part of the role of our School Council is to think of ways in which to improve the school. In October they asked all the children in their classes how we could do this. One of the decisions was to have another play boat in the play-ground. Recently, the School Council showed a range of boats and asked all of the children to vote for their favourite. The vote was unanimous and here is the boat we are hoping to get. The FIPS parents are helping us to raise the money.

World Thinking Day Assembly

On Tuesday it was World Thinking Day. This is Lord Baden-Powell's birthday and is a day on which members of the scouting and guiding associations world wide think about each other and celebrate being part of an international movement, by learning and playing together and taking action on worldwide and local issues. We were lucky enough to have an assembly led by local leaders, explaining the day and teaching us all a song. The children in school who are members of Rainbows, Beavers and Brownies wore their uniforms to school for the day as part of the celebration.
