

Wednesday 3rd February- Can I write a poem using ideas from an existing poem?

Read "Where Broccoli Comes From" and then have a go at changing Michael Rosen's ideas. The rest of the words will stay the same you are just going to change the ideas below.

1. A vegetable_____
2. A body part_____
3. A colour_____
4. A place_____
5. A verb_____ (Can you think of another word for shave?)

Now draw a picture to illustrate your ideas! When you have finished add your new words to the poem on the next page.

"Where _____ Comes From"

By _____

Not many people know that _____ grows in the _____
of very big _____ men who live in the _____
and brave _____ cutters go deep into the _____
and they creep up on the very big _____ men.
They wait for the
very big _____ men
to fall asleep
and the _____ cutters get out their great big _____ razors
and they _____ the _____ of the very big _____ men And that's where _____ comes from.
Not many people know that.
